25th Stakeholders' Meet: IREDA Prioritises Asset Quality Over Volume-Led Growth, Embraces Next-Gen Digital Adoption

New Delhi, 25th November 2026

Indian Renewable Energy Development Agency Ltd. (IREDA) held its 25th Stakeholders' Meet today at India Habitat Centre, New Delhi. Chaired by Shri Jatin Kumar Nayak, Chairman & Managing Director, IREDA, the meet brought together borrowers and developers from across the renewable energy sector, along with senior officials and employees of the company.

Addressing the stakeholders, borrowers and employees, CMD said that as IREDA approaches its 40th year, organisation will place greater emphasis on asset quality rather than volume-led growth. He said IREDA's focus will be on prudent lending, healthy loan portfolios and complete transparency.

To bring in speed and accountability, CMD emphasized that clear timelines will be set for every stage of the loan process, from sanction to disbursement, with priority given to quality proposals. He urged borrowers to complete all compliances in a timely manner so that projects move forward without avoidable delays.

IREDA also made a presentation on its digital initiative for project monitoring, aimed at improving visibility of project progress, enabling timely tracking of milestones and strengthening communication between IREDA and its borrowers.

Dedicated sector-wise discussions were held on Solar & Wind, Bio Energy, Hydro, and New & Emerging Technologies, where developers shared on-ground challenges in project execution, financing and compliance and discussed them directly with IREDA's teams. During the interaction, CMD, Director (Finance) and senior officials responded to stakeholders' queries.

In his concluding remarks, Dr. Bijay Kumar Mohanty, Director (Finance), IREDA, encouraged borrowers to foster a culture built on proactive compliance, timely communication and mutual accountability.
